Perhaps the most derogatory facts between the British Sign Language and in the Northern and Southern Hemisphere (U.S. and Canada) is the difference in sign language. This is not to say that the British Sign Language is superior to the American Sign Language. There is evidence that a new hand sign alphabet was used in the U.S. as early as 1800. Lane et al., mentioned in the book 'Deaf World'.

British Sign Language (BSL) has been brought to America with British Deaf missionaries, usually as well as a school system or religious center of the American colonies were used in the New World (U.S. and Canada) in the 1700s or early 1800s (Lane et al., 2002).

A BSL book published for the Bay State in Ohio, U.S. shows a new hand sign alphabet used in the U.S. and also shows the American sign. This alphabet is used at deaf schools in the U.S. and also in the U.S. (Lane et al., 2002). Lane et al., mentioned in the book 'Deaf World'.
